

A Little Love Story

$\text{♩} = 70$

Age of six he loved her so Eve-ry day he let her know "I love you" he'd say each day.

She'd just laugh and run a - way. Till one day, she a - round be-side him on the play - ground: turned

"I'm sor - ry I don't love you. You'll find one who loves you too." High-school came. They met a - gain, they laughed a - bout the things back then, da - ted and fell in love. He got the girl of dream. But col-lege came. Eve-ry-thing changed they were a - part with lives rear - ranged. "We will be fine," he said. With doubt she said good - bye. In their twen - ties They once more. Hand in hand met

they be-gan dan - cing. Re-mem-ber - ing their ro-mance time, He whis-pered "You're my eve-ry - thing." Two years la - ter she his wife. To-ge-ther they en-joyed their days. Re-mem-ber - was

62

ing their ro-mance time, He whis-pered "You're my eve-ry - thing."