The musical score for F. Busoni's Op. 19, BV 208, page 9, is written in G-flat major (three flats) and 3/4 time. It consists of four staves: two treble clefs and two bass clefs. The music is characterized by flowing sixteenth-note passages and sustained chords. The first staff (treble) begins with a half note G-flat, followed by a series of sixteenth-note runs. The second staff (treble) starts with a half note G-flat and continues with similar sixteenth-note patterns. The third staff (bass) begins with a half note G-flat and features a continuous sixteenth-note line. The fourth staff (bass) starts with a half note G-flat and continues with a sixteenth-note line. The score is marked with various dynamics and articulations, including accents and slurs.

This image displays a musical score for F. Busoni's Op. 19, BV 208, specifically measures 82 through 90. The score is written for four staves, likely representing a piano and a violin/viola. The key signature is B-flat major (two flats). The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, beams, and slurs, indicating complex rhythmic patterns and melodic lines. The score is divided into five systems, each containing two measures. The first system starts at measure 82, and the fifth system ends at measure 90. The notation is dense, with many beamed notes and slurs, suggesting a fast and intricate piece.
