1. He who would valiant be 'gainst all disaster,
 2. Who so be-set him round with dismal stories
 3. Since, Lord, Thou dost defend us with Thy Spirit,

Let him in constancy follow the Master.
 Do but themselves confound his strength the more is.
 We know we at the end, shall life in her it.

There's no discouragement shall make him once relent
 No foes shall stay his might; though he with giants fight,
 Then fancies flee away! I'll fear not what men say,
